ERA Program Terms and Conditions

The purpose of the NSW Employment Related Accommodation (ERA) Program is to assist Aboriginal people with a connection to a remote area (hereafter referred to as a Program tenant), to undertake education and/or employment in a regional centre.

Program tenants must provide evidence of enrolment in an educational or training course, or proof of employment offer, in order to be eligible to rent a property through the ERA program. Should they decide to leave university, TAFE or other training, and do not plan to return to study, or if their employment ceases they will no longer be eligible for the program and a 'Notice of Termination' will be issued to end their tenancy and vacate the property.

Once accepted into the Program, Program tenants are responsible for keeping to the terms and conditions of their Residential Tenancy Agreement. This typically involves:

- Paying weekly rent
- Contributing to the cleaning and general maintenance of the property
- Taking care of furniture and appliances
- Paying a rental bond, refundable upon satisfactory completion of the tenancy
- Paying excess electrical, gas and water usage charges for single shared accommodation as determined by the housing manager. Program tenants in family accommodation will be responsible for paying their own utilities bills.

Program tenants with issues concerning their tenancy should contact their housing provider. For issues regarding education or employment contact the education provider or employer. For other concerns, contact the Aboriginal Housing Office (AHO).

The Program tenant consents to information regarding their application being shared between Program stakeholders.

The Program tenant also agrees to the Housing Provider undertaking a reference check of their prospective employer or educational institution. An identification check will also be undertaken once the tenant is accepted into the Program.

Detailed Program conditions are available in the ERA Program Guidelines, which can be found at: www.aho.nsw.gov.au/era. For information about the managing housing provider, employer or educational institution please contact them directly.

As a Program Tenant I hereby accept and agree to the terms and conditions of the ERA Program as set out in the above document.
